

Navy E-Learning Migrates to Navy Knowledge Online

Navy E-Learning, the Navy's official distance learning system, has merged with Navy Knowledge Online (NKO). Moving Navy E-Learning to NKO makes it easier for Sailors to manage careers and educational opportunities from one site.

At no cost to users, Navy E-Learning:

- Launches, tracks, and manages more than 3,966 E-Learning courses.
- Offers entire SkillSoft and NETg libraries including IT, Business, Desktop and Simulation courses along with 305 foreign language and culture courses developed for the Defense Language Institute.
- Allows students to search education, training and professional development references and links, search the E-Learning catalog by skills or occupations of interest, assess proficiency levels, develop selected skills, and track improvements.
- Records course usage and completions automatically logging information into Sailors' electronic training jacket.
- Provides easy access to other resources, such as the Navy College Program (NCP) and the Navy Advancement Center.
- Provides self-paced Web-based content for 12 'A' schools.

Navy E-Learning will eventually include most 'A' and 'C' school curriculums as well as training requirements from organizations such as Northern Command, North American Aerospace Defense Command, Naval Ordnance Safety and Security Activity, National Security Personnel System, Naval Personnel Command, Naval Surface Warfare Center and the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.
